

Level	Module A	Module B	Module C	Common European Framework of Reference
1	No prior knowledge required.	You should be able to introduce yourself and briefly describe someone; tell the time and have some knowledge of numbers; know how to use present regular verbs; use simple prepositions; use masculine and feminine forms; order in a café; or have knowledge equivalent to roughly 20 hours of tuition.	You should be able to talk about your daily activities; describe a place and give directions; deal with travel/holiday situations; say what you like or dislike; use common irregular verbs in the present; use the imperative, possessive pronouns and common adverbs of frequency; use reflexive verbs in the present tense; use common irregular verbs and interrogatives as well as common adverbs of frequency; basic understanding of prepositions of place; or have knowledge equivalent to roughly 40 hours of tuition. Suitable for those with a GCSE, or equivalent, from several years ago.	A1
2	You should be able to use the past tense, the 'near past' (I've just...); use the imperfect tense; make purchases, including shopping for food and clothes; make phone calls and carry out small social talks; prepositions and basic forms of tenses; or	You should be able to express wishes; give advice (present conditional); relate past events; use reflexive verbs in the past tense; express opinion and obligation; narrate memories and past events with the perfect and imperfect tense; or have knowledge equivalent to roughly 80 hours of tuition.	You should be able to handle reasonably complex sentences; voice intentions and planning in the future; future tenses (I am going to/I will); use of the imperative (formal/informal, positive/negative) or have knowledge equivalent to roughly 100 hours of tuition.	A2

	have knowledge equivalent to roughly 60 hours of tuition.	Suitable for those with a recent GCSE, or equivalent.	Suitable for those with a good, recent GCSE, or equivalent.
3+	You should have some knowledge of the subjunctive, the use of gerunds and since/for/during; able to speak reasonably fluently on a number of everyday topics; digest information from resources such as newspapers and magazines; follow discussions on current affairs. Knowledge equivalent to at least 120 hours of tuition. Please contact us using enquiries@bishopsgate.org.uk, before enrolling, if you think this level might be suitable for you.			A2/B1/B2
Conversational Advanced	This course is for students whose language proficiency and confidence enables them to participate in debates, guided conversations and free exchanges on a wide range of subjects. Please contact us using enquiries@bishopsgate.org.uk, before enrolling, if you think this level might be suitable for you.			C1